IFHIMA Corporate and Educational Institution Membership Opportunity

For 50 years,
IFHIMA has been committed to the advancement of health information management practices

The International Federation of Health Information Management (IFHIMA) is a non-governmental organization of 23* member nations with individual members in over 30 countries.

For nearly fifty years, IFHIMA has been committed to the advancement of health information management (HIM) practices and the development of its members for the purpose of improving health data and health outcomes.

IFHIMA enjoys official relations with the WHO-Family of International Classifications (WHO-FIC). IFHIMA has representation with voice and vote on two of the WHO-FIC's Committees. The first is the Education and Implementation Committee, with representation since 2005 and as of this year, also the MbRG, the Morbidity Reference Group. Additionally, IFHIMA partners with other organizations such as the International Medical Informatics Association (IMIA) to share knowledge and best practices and foster initiatives that can positively impact world health.

Today, the world is increasingly more digital; healthcare has become more multidisciplinary and health systems much more complex. Membership in IFHIMA is your opportunity to join us as we prepare HIM professionals to face these new challenges and strengthen the profession globally.
